

(Albuquerque, NM) With 2018 in full effect, this year is quickly being referred to as “The year of the Gato”. Felix y los Gatos, the favored Godsons of New Mexico music, are bringing their emotionally driven stage performance on the road and to your speakers. “The Gatos are coming, and we mean business.” states Felix Peralta, front man for the band. Recently back from recording at the legendary Blue Cat Studio with Joe Trevino in San Antonio, Tx, the Gatos are anxiously awaiting the mastering of their upcoming album. Trevino, known for his grammy award winning recordings with Los Lobos, The Mavericks, Flaco Jimenez, & The TexManiacs has solidified the sound of Felix Los Gatos so be on the lookout for their new album to drop this fall. The musical diversity of Felix y los Gatos, which is custom tailored to their audience, is culturally steeped and nothing short of power driven authenticity. Recently returned from the 5th annual Lancaster Blues Festival, the power duo, Dos Gatos will also be welcomed back the 2018 Durango Blues Train, sponsored by the Telluride Blues and Brews Festival. One thing is certain, whether it’s acoustic or plugged in, the Gatos are a national touring act you DO NOT want to miss.
